

Comprehend Complex Literature

Today's Standard

11-12.RL.10 - By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, in the grades 11-CCR text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range. By the end of grade 12, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, at the high end of the grades 11-CCR text complexity band independently and proficiently.

| Cues | Notes |
|--|---|
| What is the standard? | The standard focuses on reading and comprehending complex literature independently by the end of grade 12. |
| Why is it important? | It is important because it prepares students for higher education and advanced literary analysis. |
| What are common misconceptions? | Common misconceptions include thinking comprehension is only about plot and that all complex texts require external help. |
| What are some real-world applications? | Real-world applications include analyzing themes in novels, interpreting character development in plays, and evaluating poetic devices. |

Summary

The standard requires students to read and comprehend complex literature independently by the end of grade 12, preparing them for higher education. Key misconceptions involve oversimplifying comprehension and over-relying on external help.