

Informative Writing for Kids

Today's Standard

2.W.2 - Write informative/explanatory texts in which they introduce a topic, use facts and definitions to develop points, and provide a concluding statement or section.

Cues	Notes
What is an informative text?	Informative texts provide factual information on a topic.
What are the key components of informative writing?	Key components include an introduction, facts and definitions, and a concluding statement.
Why is a concluding statement important?	A concluding statement wraps up the text and provides closure.
How can we distinguish between facts and opinions?	Facts are statements that can be proven true, while opinions are personal beliefs or feelings.
What are some real-world applications of informative writing?	Real-world applications include writing reports, creating informational posters, and composing 'how-to' guides.

Summary

Informative writing involves presenting factual information clearly, with an introduction, supporting details, and a conclusion. Understanding the difference between facts and opinions is crucial.