

Dialogue and Character Responses

Today's Standard

4.W.3b - Use dialogue and description to develop experiences and events or show the responses of characters to situations.

Cues	Notes
What is dialogue?	Dialogue is the spoken words between characters in a story.
How can dialogue develop a story?	Dialogue can reveal character traits, advance the plot, and show relationships.
What should descriptions include?	Descriptions should include physical appearances, emotions, settings, and actions.
Why is character response important?	Character responses show how characters feel and react to events, making the story more dynamic.

Summary

Using dialogue and description helps develop experiences and events in a story, showing how characters respond to situations. This enriches the narrative and makes it more engaging.