

Narrative Writing Structure

Today's Standard

5.W.3a - Orient the reader by establishing a situation and introducing a narrator and/or characters; organize an event sequence that unfolds naturally.

Cues	Notes
What is narrative writing?	Narrative writing involves telling a story with a clear sequence of events.
How do you start a story?	A story can start with a setting description, character introduction, or an action scene.
What is the importance of organizing events?	Organizing events helps the reader follow the story and understand the plot.
What are common ways to introduce characters?	Characters can be introduced through descriptions, actions, or dialogue.
Why is sequencing important in a narrative?	Sequencing ensures that the story makes sense and flows naturally.

Summary

Narrative writing is about telling a story with a clear sequence of events. It starts with establishing a situation and introducing characters. Organizing and sequencing events logically is crucial for a coherent and engaging story.