

Narrative Writing Structure

Today's Standard

7.W.3a - Engage and orient the reader by establishing a context and point of view and introducing a narrator and/or characters; organize an event sequence that unfolds naturally and logically.

Cues	Notes
Context	Narrative writing involves setting the scene and introducing characters.
Point of View	A clear point of view helps the reader understand the story.
Narrator	A narrator guides the reader through the events.
Characters	Characters should be introduced early and developed throughout the story.
Event Sequence	Events should unfold in a logical order.
Story Mapping	Story mapping can help organize thoughts before writing.
Character Voices	Distinct character voices make the story more engaging.

Summary

Effective narrative writing requires a clear context, point of view, and well-developed characters. Organizing events logically and using story mapping can enhance the narrative.
