

Organizing and Presenting Information

Today's Standard

9-10.WHST.2a - Introduce a topic and organize ideas, concepts, and information to make important connections and distinctions; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.

Cues	Notes
What is the importance of organizing information?	Organizing information helps make important connections and distinctions.
How do headings and subheadings help in writing?	Headings and subheadings help structure the document, making it easier to follow.
Why are graphics and multimedia useful?	Graphics and multimedia enhance comprehension and engagement.
What are common misconceptions about this standard?	Common misconceptions include thinking graphics are optional and listing information is enough.
How can one effectively plan their writing?	Using outlines and graphic organizers can help plan writing effectively.

Summary

This standard focuses on the importance of organizing information and using formatting, graphics, and multimedia to aid comprehension. Students should understand how to structure their writing and use visual aids effectively.