

Evidence-Based Analysis

Today's Standard

11-12.WHST.9 - Draw evidence from informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Real-World Applications for this Standard

Writing a research paper; Creating a scientific report; Analyzing historical documents; Developing technical manuals; Conducting literature reviews

Today I Learned

Today, we learned how to use information from books and articles to support our ideas when we write.

Common Stumbling Blocks

Some kids think their own opinions are enough to support their ideas. Others think all books and articles are equally good. Both are not true. We need to use facts from good sources.

Quiz Me

- What is evidence?
- Why do we need to use information from books?
- How can we tell if a book is a good source?
- What is an opinion?
- Why is it important to use facts?

Help Me

We use information from books and articles to make our writing stronger. For example, if we write about why recycling is good, we can use facts from articles to show how it helps the Earth.
