

Information Gathering and Recalling

Today's Standard

2.W.8 - Recall information from experiences or gather information from provided sources to answer a question.

Real-World Applications for this Standard

Writing a short story based on a personal experience; Researching and writing a short report on a favorite animal; Creating a 'how-to' guide based on something they learned in class; Answering questions after reading a short passage; Interviewing a family member and writing about their life

Today I Learned

Today, we learned how to remember things from our own experiences or find information from books and the internet to answer questions.

Common Stumbling Blocks

Sometimes, kids think they need to remember every little detail perfectly, but it's okay to focus on the main ideas. Also, they might think they can't use books or ask for help, but using resources is very important.

Quiz Me

- Can you tell me about a time you went to the park?
- What is your favorite animal and why?
- How do you make a sandwich?
- What did you learn in school today?
- Who is your favorite story character and what do they do?

Help Me

We are learning how to remember important things from our own lives or find information in books and on the internet. This helps us answer questions and write stories or reports.
