

Comparative Analysis of Artistic Mediums

Today's Standard

9-10.RL.7 - Analyze the representation of a subject or a key scene in two different artistic mediums, including what is emphasized or absent in each treatment (e.g., Auden's 'Musée des Beaux Arts' and Breughel's Landscape with the Fall of Icarus).

Real-World Applications for this Standard

Comparing a novel and its film adaptation; Analyzing a historical event in a painting and a poem; Examining different portrayals of a myth in literature and visual art

Today I Learned

Today, we learned how to compare different types of art, like a poem and a painting, to see what they tell us about the same story.

Common Stumbling Blocks

Sometimes, kids think that all types of art should look the same or that one type is better. But, every type of art has its own way of telling a story.

Quiz Me

- What is a poem?
- Can you name a type of painting?
- What does it mean to compare two things?
- Why might a movie be different from a book?
- Can you tell me a story you know from both a book and a movie?

Help Me

We can use what we learn from comparing different kinds of art in real life. For example, we might see the same story in a book and a movie, and each one can show us something new and interesting about the story.
