

Rules for Collegial Discussions

Today's Standard

9-10.SL.1b - Work with peers to set rules for collegial discussions and decision-making (e.g., informal consensus, taking votes on key issues, presentation of alternate views), clear goals and deadlines, and individual roles as needed.

Real-World Applications for this Standard

Classroom debates; Group project planning; Student council meetings; Peer review sessions

Today I Learned

Today, we learned how to work with others to set rules for discussions and make decisions together. This helps everyone have a chance to talk and share their ideas.

Common Stumbling Blocks

Sometimes, kids think that rules for talking are not needed, but rules help everyone get a turn. Also, making decisions can take time, and it's good to hear everyone's ideas before deciding.

Quiz Me

- What is a rule for talking in a group?
- Why do we need rules when we talk?
- How can we make decisions together?
- What should we do if we don't agree?
- Who can have a job in a group talk?

Help Me

When we talk in groups, it's important to have rules so everyone can share their ideas. We can make decisions by talking and listening to everyone's ideas. This helps us work better together.
