

Evidence-Based Writing Skills

Today's Standard

9-10.WHST.9 - Draw evidence from informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Real-World Applications for this Standard

Writing research papers; Analyzing historical documents; Creating science reports; Developing technical manuals; Writing argumentative essays

Today I Learned

Today, we learned how to use information from texts to support our writing. This helps us make our writing stronger and more convincing.

Common Stumbling Blocks

Sometimes, kids think all texts are equally good or that just telling what a text says is enough. We need to check if the text is trustworthy and also think about what it really means.

Quiz Me

- What is evidence?
- How do you know if a text is good to use?
- What is a summary?
- What does it mean to analyze?
- Why is it important to use more than one text?

Help Me

Using information from texts helps us make better arguments and understand things more deeply. For example, when writing a report, we can use facts from different books to make our points stronger.
